A Backpack of My Own

Backpacks Needed for Foster, Adoptive, & Kinship Families

Children and Teenagers coming into foster care often come to their foster families with nothing to call their own.

“When you arrive at a home...everything there belongs to ‘someone’....THERE... NOTHING is just YOURS. It helps to arrive with some THINGS that are JUST yours. Sharing is great and a must in learned behavior, but you got to have something before you can learn to share.”

Remembers Mandy - in foster care for 6 years, adopted when she was 10 years old.
